Events

- 2015 December - Kimchi-making Workshop, De Punt, AMSTERDAM
(For this workshop, guests were invited to take part in learning about traditional Korean Kimchi making as well as fusion Guerilla kimchi. A poetic conversation took place as part of the performance in transfusing our very-own bacterias and projecting our last thoughts and energies into this kimchi to be fermented for next year)
- 2015 December - Circular Economy Dinner, at Agora Collective, BERLIN
(Under the concept of circular dinner, guests for this meet-up were asked to dine with a stranger from the group, share a meal like family style, and asked to take part in the dessert making ceremony (sticky rice ball making) upon their arrival to intimately create their end meal, and to eat the creations of the meetup members)
- 2015 November - „Restaurant“ by Nowhere Kitchen, at Agora Collective, BERLIN
(Inspired by the etymology of the word restaurant, a restorative, interactive and performative dining experience)
- 2015 November - „Quiet Food“, at Agora Collective, BERLIN

(in collaboration with Californian chef Kimberly Helen Upstill, a dinner was organized, creating food that delights and settles, holds space for conversation, and allows a time to come together somewhere between formal dining, the personal kitchen, and the couch.)

- 2015 November - „Bruises“, at Agora Collective, BERLIN
(in collaboration with different chefs, community dinner was inspired by the idea of bruises of our food, our bodies and ourselves, in a rough, delicious and experimental community dinner)
- 2015 November - „Table of Plenty“, at Agora Collective, BERLIN
(In collaboration with twelve practitioners from EUS program, Kultivator from Sweden ((an experimental cooperation of organic farming and visual art practice)), partnered up w/ the Newcomers/Refugees of Berlin to create a platform through food for cross-cultural exchange)
- 2015 November - „The Nordic Dinner“, at Agora Collective, BERLIN
(Organizing Space. Designing napkins, dyeing them with kitchen leftovers of the dinner event, creating a sustainable poetic translation for the manifestation of kitchen smells back onto the dining table of the guests)
- 2015 June -“Amstel Park Sporen“, Het Glazen Huis, Amstel Park, AMSTERDAM
(in collaboration with artist Marjolijn Boterenbrood, dinner was organized inspired by what grows in Amstel Park to eat, and the organisms living above and underground research by Marjolijn)
- 2015 April/May -“Turkish Coffee Ceremony“ at Oude Kerk, AMSTERDAM
(As part of Wonder&Wander, a turkish coffee ceremony was organized in the old library of the old church near Red Light District of Amsterdam. The event was to use the church for its old purposes where merchants and citizens would meet up to exchange thoughts. As coffee is widely known to be a meetup excuse, a research was carried about the history of coffee and how it was rejected in Europe because of religious purposes. Turkish coffee ceremony brings insights back to this history as well as creating an interactive fortune-reading ceremony of strangers)
- 2014 June -“Turkish Ravioli Rituals“, at Gerrit Rietveld Academie, AMSTERDAM
(a „manti“ making event/workshop was carried to bring turkish woman of the neighbourhood out of their domesticated environment to reveal the secrets of this long tactile making of turkish ravioli. Guests were invited to take part of the event to learn and exchange knowledge, get an insight of this culture that is hidden behind walls. A documentation of the event was made, and an installation was built as a visual translation of how I feel as a Turkish artist living in the Turkish neighbourhood in Amsterdam)
- 2014 March - „Tea Ceremony“ for Rainproof Symposium, in collaboration with Floris Boogaard, at Roest, AMSTERDAM
(an event based on an extensive research about water and its journey throughout the city, how humans influence the structure of water. This event was organized to bring water back to its virgin state, a campfire was organized to heat up rainwater, little puddles of footbaths were prepared in a Zen-garden inspired set-up where guests were asked to take off their shoes and become one and intimate with water again)

Residency

2014 July - Artist in Residency, Blooming Hotel Bergen, NORTH HOLLAND
